Fujairah Creative City

Fujairah Creative City is a completely new media innovation cluster and an addition to the media hubs in the region after Dubai Media City and two-four54.

Taking the inherent advantage of the lower cost of operating licenses and lower cost of living, this new initiative will be considered by the investors in the media segment as an alternative or complimentary option for expansion. This free zone offers a remote business setup and visa processing.

Fujairah Creative City is targeting smaller players who are trying to establish new businesses or benefit from a new location for their existing operations. Creative City, having 40,000 sq. meters of dedicated land area, will complement existing media clusters in the region, and further facilitate creativity in all fields, for both freelancers as well as companies in a variety of specialties, such as training, media production, media services and technology.

Launched in 2007, Creative City has been providing clients with reliable services in a successful business environment. Creative City sets up professional environment for individuals and businesses working in a broad spectrum of business fields including media, events, consulting, education, communication and marketing, music and entertainment, design and technology complementing existing media clusters in the region and further facilitating creativity in all fields.

Creative City provides licenses to individuals within a Free Zone economic environment. It regulates and processes all government formalities, work permits and visas and simplifies the process of a business startup. Providing a complete one-stop solution, Creative City offers customized services
